Wisona Minnesota Territory, } February 20th 1855. Messes Chiters:-I write you from this young and floure hong town, supposing that a few facts relating to the growth, prosperity, and future p-expects, &c., of this place, and this part of the Territory, would not prove uninteresting to the the many readers of the Sentinel, and to those whose attention is belog directed more and more every year to this young Territory, and most esecially Southern Minnesota, which is acknowledged by all who have ever traveled over it, to be the "Carden of the West." The town of Winonn is situated on the wes ouk of the Father of Waters, and on as beautiful and levely a prairie as e'er was gazed upon by the eyes of man, being nine miles long on the over, by two miles wide. This is relieved by an array of each bluffs and hills as the Upper Mississippi alone can boast of. Several Islands are scattered along the river, opposite the prairie, and on the other side rise the grim old cliffs and hills 1 Warensin, some of which present all the apgarance of the crumbled remains of the embatthemented towers of the old feudal castles. As for no the eye can reach those bills and costellated bluffs can be seen; their height gonerally averaging from 3 to 400 feet; all of which tend to make up a scenery that cannot be equalled for lovely and picturesque beauty, and is decidedly the mest remantic spot I have seen on the Upper Mississippi. The location of the town is one of the very best on the river, and from its geographical position, and the many entural advantages it possesses over other points. I doubt not that it will eventually become the largest town on the river, briween Dubuono and St. Paul, if the proper exertions are made by these interested here. The first settlement made here was some two years ago; it was then occupied by a band of the Side x I disins. The prairie has been named washington, Feb. 28.

Sx (ATE.—The Senate was engaged last night of the state itory. All kinds of game are found in abun unce, such se plussants, prairie chickens, quails ducks, &c., and beautiful front screams can be found in almost any direction, abounding with ome of the finest frout that I ever ate.

There are now some 400 mhabitants here, whare an intelligent, entorprising and active popu lation. The society here, I will venture to say, s the best of any town of its size on the whole river, and would compare favorably with any of the first class villeges in the Eastern States, although but two years ago this part of Minnesota was very near all a wilderness and mamed over by bands of savages, who are now few and far between. The U.S. Land office for this District is located here, and is already doing quite a large pre-emption business, although it has been opened but a little over two month. The lands will probably be in market some time in May, when the first public sale will take place. There is a weekly paper published here called the " Winona Argun;" it has been in vistance about six months and has already: circulation of very near one thousand. Ther are 5 stotes, 2 taveras, 1 tin shop, 1 blacksmith diop, I harness shop, I shou shop, a meeting house and a school house, the greater part of which have been creeted during the past summer.

We need, however, many things here yet which re alto at indispensable, such as a cabinet shop nd wagon shop, which would pay well. We also not I a larger hotel, as the present ones are not of the travel nere caring the summer.

The mare thousands of settlers that have gone into the back country here during the past year; and from all accounts the rush of sattless hither in the spring will be three times as great—nearly all of whom are dependent upon this place for their supplies, as this is the most accessible point on the river for 100 miles where they can got their goods. There is not a place on the rivr where enpited could be better invested than here in enterprises that would yield a rich return for the outlay - such as building a steam saw will, tlouting mill, and many others, too numerais to mention. The land back of here is of the richest kind, and the agricultural purposes is equal to any in the Union The soil is a rich, dark, deep loam, and generally from 4 to 5 feet deep. The country about is with time springs and streams; the character of it in general is rolling praise, with oak openings, thickets, &c. The black walcut grows Growth and Business or Columbus -The Republican Journal, a new weekly paper, just started by Mosses. Mallo & Thater, at Columbus Columbia County, contains a lively sketch of the grow h and prospects of the fine town in which it is published. Conumbus is located on the Catfielt river, 28 miles north of Madison, and the same distance west of Watertown. It now contains 200 inhabitants, a flouring mill, saw taill, two wagon slieps, two hotels, three grocery and provision stores, four blacksmith shops, and ten others of various mechanical trades, one church (congregational) built, and two more (Methodust and Universalist) contemplated. As lo humoes during the winter, the Journal says that 35.00) bushels wheat, 147 tons Pork, and a large amount of Oats, Corn and Barley, has been purchased there, and that there is a very large quancity of grain yet, in the adjacent country. Its object seemed to be to trach that there was a "philosophy of travel" and a higher and better end to be sought in it than the idle gratification of a roving propensity; that it was a true school, wherein to learn men and things and obtain a broader and better humanity. And nobly did Mr. Taylon sustain his alma mater. His illustrations of his theme, by dissecting and characterizing the different species of the traveller were rich in quiet satire, and felicitous description, and kept his audience in a glow of delight His whole lecture was characteristic of the man elevated in sentiment and pure in expression and delightful to hear. Mr. Taylor leaves in Milwaukee, troops of friends, who will always be glad to hear of him, whether still farther enlarging his experience in travel, or quietly enjoying the comforts of home, could never unfit a man.

The next Lecture of the course will be given by Mr. Prengont, probably on Tuesday evening next. What a treat it will be, the reader can infor from the following notice of it, in the Cleveland Herald: We cannot describe the "Golden Calf," common prose is too meagre in illustration to give one fissh even from the gens which dezzled in every line, and held in breathless admiration a very fine, and need in prescribes administration as movded house. To be fully appreciated, it must be heard from the lips of the author. The "Golden Call" stands bold upright in the path of almost every man and woman in the land, and how thrillingly elequent, how classically beautiful, how saily and laughably by torns, the talented Prancor portrayed in the Iram-work of exquisite poetry this money God, was attested by the alternate tears and the rapturous applause for delicities.

y the ancionas The matter of the Poem, the matter of the Orstor, must be heard and seen—we will not attempt to describe them. The reputation of Mr. Prespont was such as to justify great anticipa-tions, but the audience last evening were delight-ed beyond the most ardent expectations.

Wryong Minnesota Territory, } Pebruary 20th 1855. Messes Calitors:- I write you from this young and flour-hing town, supposing that a few facts relating to the growth, prosperity, and future respects, &c., of this place, and this part of the burntory, would not prove uninteresting to the the many readers of the Sentinel, and to those whose attention is being directed more and more every year to this young Territory, and most especially Southern Minnesota, which is acknowledged by all who have ever traveled over it, to be the "Carden of the West." The town of Winona is situated on the west book of the Father of Waters, and on as beautiful and levely a prairie as e'er was gazed upon by the eyes of man, being nine miles long on the niver, by two miles wide. This is relieved by an array of such bluffs and hills as the Upper Missispipi alone can loss of. Several Islands are scattered along the river, opposite the prairie, and on the other side rice the grim old claffs and hills of the close of your duties call on me, and I will pay you and donate it to them.

Respectfully yours, ROBERT HALSEY. The town of Winona is situated on the west pearance of the crumbled remains of the embatthemented towers of the old feudal castles. As er no the eye one reach those kills and contollated dulls can be seen; their height goverally averaging from 3 to 400 feet; all of which tend to make up a scenery that cannot be equalled fo lovely and picturesque beauty, and is decidedly the most remantic spot I have seen on the Upper Mississippi. The location of the town is one of the very best on the river, and from its geographical position, and the many entural advantages it possesses sover other points. I doubt not that it will eventually become the largest town on the river, briween Dubuquo and St. Paul, if the proer exertions are made by these interested here.

The first settlement made here was some two gram ago; it was then occupied by a band of the ioux Indiana. The prairie has been named Walashaw Prairie! after Walashaw their Chief, she reluctantly consented to remove from this charming spot, when the treuty for these lands was being ratified. No wonder that he best ated to abandon such a home forever, as there is not a better aporting ground in the Territory. All kinds of game are found in abundance, : uch as pheasants, prairie chickens, quails, lucks, &c., and beautiful trout streams can be ound in almost any direction, abounding with ome of the finest trout that I ever ale. There are now some 400 inhabitants here, who

to an intelligent, entorprising and active population. The society here, I will venture to say is the best of any town of its size on the whole river, and would compare favorably with any of the first class villeges in the Eastern States, although but two years ago this part of Minnesota was very near all a wilderness and Hamed over by bands of savages, who are now few and far between. The U.S. Land offleo for this District is located here, and is already deing quite a large pre-emption business, Ithough it has been opened but a little over two nonths. The lands will probably be in market ome time in May, when the first public sale will ake place. There is a weekly paper published here called the "Winona Argus," it has been in existence about six months and has already a circulation of very near one thousand. Ther are 5 stores, 2 taveras, 1 tin shop, 1 blackswith shop, I harness shop, I shou shop, a meeting iouse and a school house, the greater part of which have been erected during the past summer. We need, however, many things here yet which are also et indispensable, such as a cabinet shop and wagen shop, which would pay well. We also need a larger hotel, as the present ones are not unificient to accommodate one third of the travel here carried the summer.

There are thousands of actilers that have gone into the back country here during the past year; and from all accounts the rush of sattlers hither in the spring will be three times as great-nearly all of whom are dependent upon this place for their supplies, as this is the most accessible ount on the river for 100 miles where they can their goods. There is not a place on the rivr where capital could be better invested than ece in enterprises that would yield a rich return for the outlay - such as building a steam saw mill, flouring mill, and many others, too numer-

There are several excellent water powers on the falls of the Zombro and Root rivers, and a number of other streams that afford good water powers.

Some 20 new towns have sprung up within the the best nine months, among which are Chatfield, High-orest and Zombro, which are thriving plaes, the a year ago they contained but a baif a dozen families. I some time ago paid a visit to Mr. John Bunns, father of the late Lt. Gov. Bukne of your state, who has one of the fixest farms that I have seen in the Torritory. It is shout two miles from this place and will compure well with many Eastern farms, although it has been cultivated but about 2 years. He inorner me that he raises spleaded crops, and is ivalse raising considerable stock. He is a very pleas, at, honest old ionn, and, I might add a Democrat of the Jackson school; but perhaps I are er creaching too much on your columns, and will had you an " Adiou" for the present.

GROWTH AND BUSINESS OF COLUMDUS -The Remblecan Journal, a new weekly paper, just starled by Messre, Mallo & Thates, at Columbus Columbia County, contains a levely sketch of the grow'h and prospects of the fine town in which it is published. Concussus is located on the Catfish river, 28 miles north of Madison, and the same distance west of Watertown. It now contains 800 inhabitants, a flouring mill, saw mill, two wagon sheps, two hotels, three grocery and provision stores, four blacksmith shops, and ten others of various muchanical trades, one church (congregational) built, and two more (Methodust and Universalist) contemplated. As ic harmess during the winter, the Journal says that 35,00) bushels wheat, 147 tons Perk, and a large amount of Oats, Corn and Barley, has been perchased there, and that there is a very large quancity of grain yet, in the adjacent country. Columbus will take a fresh etreet on the
